Part of a volunteer’s role is to be able to respond rapidly in the event of an emergency, which may be medical or which may result in having to evacuate people from the building. You will receive training and support in this regard, but we do ask that volunteers have good mobility as managing steps is necessary in this role. We will also ask to discuss any medical or support requirements you may have in order to fulfil the role. This forms a part of our ongoing risk assessment.

Those interested in the roles will not be interviewed, but an informal chat is necessary to ensure the role meets the prospective volunteer’s expectations and to ensure that the prospective volunteer understands and can undertake the activities within the role.

I have read and understood the information given on this form and on the Role Description and wish to undertake training as a volunteer.
